I chose Curtin because it is one of the top universities in Australia.

What I like most about my course is how it prepares and equips me with essential teaching and classroom management skills through professional learning experiences. I've learned a huge amount about children's development mentally, physically and behaviourally.

Curtin also provides valuable placements and networking opportunities for students. My first placement in a metropolitan public school was a wonderful chance to have experiences in my future profession. I had opportunities to teach, monitor and evaluate a class, and learn how to be a teacher in real-life.

I'm studying Curtin's Gateway English and English Language Bridging courses to build the communication and academic writing skills I need to excel in my master and doctorate studies.

Learning English at Curtin has taught me that learning a language is not just about words, but also about sharing moments that enrich us as individuals and help us feel connected to the world.
